Frequently Asked Questions

Why is ORU@EWPC partnering with Oral Roberts University to offer this degree program?

There are a host of reasons that make ORU a fantastic educational partner. ORU provides a spiritual and historical pillar for a biblically based worldview and spirit-empowered higher education institution; ORU@EWPC provides the strength of the local church. ORU also places an institutional emphasis on retention, graduation, and placement of students, with:

- 1) US News & World Report lists ORU as the Best in the West for Regional Universities and the Best Value School.
- 2) Best Value Schools ranking ORU among the top 25 schools for its bachelor's in theology and Christian Studies.
- 3) The Wall Street Journal ranked ORU 5th nationally out of 800 students ranked in student engagement!

Important notes include:

- 1) ORU's Distinctions: Princeton Review's Best in the West, Forbes calls ORU one of America's top colleges, and US News and World Report considers ORU one of the best value universities.
- 2) ORU's Accreditation: ORU receives the highest accreditation through the Higher Learning Commission.
- 3) Value: the average four-year private university costs more per year than what students will pay over four years at our instructional site rate (tuition handled entirely by ORU).
- 4) Leadership Focus and Ministry Practicum: ORU@EWPC will have training that will sharpen students' character and make them marketable post-college.
- 5) Personalization: There were almost 100k students this past year at local colleges; at ORU@EWPC, we will have an intentionally small class size.

How do I apply to ORU@EWPC?

Currently, our ORU-Evangel specific application is live year-round. Please carefully read our instructions, which can be found on the first page of the application.

How does transferring into ORU@EWPC work?

It is important to note that no school, whether ORU or otherwise, has to accept another institution's credits. However, ORU does a phenomenal job - with the help of admissions and enrollment specialists to accommodate students' unique situations. Most of the time, credits from accredited universities will transfer. Please initially refer to ORU's transfer information page here: <https://oru.edu/current-students/my-enrollment/registrar/transfer-info/>

Where will ORU@EWPC classes take place?

Classes will take place at Evangel North Church in Clarksville, Indiana, just 4 miles north of Louisville, Kentucky. As of now, ORU-Evangel meets on Monday evenings, but that is subject to change depending on the classes offered.

What is the typical schedule?

- Two 7-week sessions per semester (Fall and Spring) – usually a week off in between (summer classes optional)
- 2-3 classes per session
- Approximately 12-16 credit hours per semester
- Mixture of on-campus and online courses
- Come to campus once a week.
- Take on-campus classes as electives or where they fit in your program.

What will be the cost of ORU@EWPC?

ORU tuition and fees will be approximately 10k/year at the ORU-Evangel instructional site, depending on the credits taken. ORU@EWPC students are receiving an incredible discount for the equivalent degree upon graduation. This is usually lower than online tuition from institutions like UofL. ORU-Evangel - $382.50 per credit hour (as of Spring 2024).

What degrees are offered at ORU@EWPC?

ORU-Evangel, in collaborative agreement with Oral Roberts University, offers a B.A. in Ministry and Leadership, Business Administration, or Christian Counseling. These degrees are primarily designed to prepare your student for life in vocational ministry but could have applications in other career fields. On-site classes are primarily those within the Education Plan of B.A. in Ministry and Leadership program.

However, an ORU@EWPC College student can enroll in any one of the 20 different degree programs through ORU Online: <https://www.oru.edu/online/>

Possible Degree options include:

Ministry & Leadership, International Business & Ministry, Business Administration, Digital Communications, and Christian Caregiving & Counseling.

Is this an accredited program?

Oral Roberts University is accredited by the Higher Learning Commission (hlcommission.org) to award baccalaureate, master's, and doctorate degrees. Students must be admitted by Oral Roberts University and into university courses to receive the benefits of a fully accredited degree.

Does ORU offer financial aid or student loans?

Yes! Because Oral Roberts University is a fully accredited institution, its partnership with ORU-Evangel enables enrolled students to pay for their college experience using federal financial aid. To be eligible for such funding, the student must file an Application for Federal Student Aid, also known as a FAFSA, and maintain 12 credit hours each semester.

Will credits from other colleges transfer, or can I transfer credits from ORU to another College?

Yes! We cannot make guarantees because each school varies, but most general education courses and some major-specific courses will transfer into ORU or transfer out to other schools.

What are the minimum requirements for my student to enroll in the degree program at ORU@EWPC?

All applications and admissions requirements are handled with ORU's admissions department. Students are required to take the ACT/SAT and provide a High School Transcript.

If I attend ORU-Evangel, will I be hired by Evangel World Prayer Center once I graduate?

We make no promise that you will be hired by Evangel World Prayer Center if you attend and graduate from ORU@EWPC. What we can guarantee is that if you do your best while at ORU-Evangel, you will be set up for success no matter what their next step is.

What does Student Life look like at ORU-Evangel?

ORU-Evangel is a big family. We encourage students to get to know each other through various student life events, small groups, retreats, and extra-curricular activities.

What are Ministry Tracks at ORU-Evangel?

Ministry Tracks are part of Ministry training at ORU-Evangel. This is what sets us apart from a traditional college. Ministry Training at ORU-Evangel is focused on providing environments for students to gain real-life experience in the area of ministry and leadership.

This happens in two parts: (1) Ministry & Leadership classes taught by EWPC staff and pastors, and (2) Ministry Tracks that are created to provide hands-on training that allows you to become specialized in a specific area of ministry. Tracks include: TV, Radio, Children, Youth, Outreach, etc.

Does ORU-Evangel provide housing?

No, ORU-Evangel does not provide housing at this time. Students are responsible for securing their own housing. If a student is in need of housing, ORU-Evangel staff will help connect him/her with incoming or current ORU-Evangel students who are looking for a roommate.

What if I go to church other than Evangel World Prayer Center?

A student of ORU-Evangel does not have to go to Evangel World Prayer Center. EWPC has been providing education to the Louisville Metro region for over 50 years through Evangel Christian School. The majority of the students at ECS attend other churches. You will be encouraged to stay in your current church and serve there.
